

FINANCIAL CALCULATORS

There are many CALCULATORS available. This is a list of some examples. The calculators all do the same thing but they do it in different ways. Use this list to find a calculator that you like.

http://www.bankrate.com/calculators.aspx?ec_id=m1013191 Includes mortgage, auto loan, retirement, credit card, and FICO score.

<http://www.choosetosave.org/calculators/> Choose to Save is sponsored by the Employee Benefit Research Institute and the American Savings Education Council.

<http://www.finaid.org/calculators> Figure out how much college will cost and how to save for it with these handy calculators.

<http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/> A variety of interactive tools that can help you plan your financial future, from getting background information about your broker to using financial calculators.

<http://www.mortgage101.com/> Calculators at this site are specifically geared for home-buyers. Includes calculators to help you decide about buying vs. renting, refinancing, qualifying for a loan, etc.

<http://www.fool.com/calcs/calculators.htm> Mortgage, savings, retirement, bonds, etc.

<http://www.ssa.gov/planners/calculators.htm> This site calculates your Social Security benefits based on information you provide about your earnings and your anticipated retirement age.

<http://www.usatoday.com/money/perfi/calculators/calculator.htm> Includes auto loan, mortgage, college savings and retirement calculators.

<http://finance.yahoo.com/calculator/index> Mortgage, savings, retirement, college savings, etc.

