

Gifts and Donations Policy

The library is honored to receive books and other materials as gifts from patrons. However, the gifts need to meet the selection criteria of the library. Therefore, it is important that the donor check with the library before purchasing material.

Gifts are subject to the library's weeding policies. Gift books are not put in the Friends' book sale, but are destroyed if weeded.

Donations of used materials are gratefully accepted. The library does reserve the right to determine if these materials will be put on the shelf or be used in the Friends' book sale.

Donations are subject to the library's weeding policies and are placed in the book sale if weeded.
